

Bridge-Gate™ Wheat-straw pulp takeout containers

Bridge-Gate wheat-straw pulp plates, bowls and trays are made from organic, GMO-free waste fibers from harvested wheat. Even more unique is the patented zero-pollution Biopulping process used to manufacture them. This process is fully self-contained and utilizes a water-saving washing system to conserve energy and water in order to produce a chemical-free product that meets or exceeds industry standards for compostability.

With Bridge-Gate you can be assured of a compostable, consistently high-quality product that have been produced to minimize ecological impacts from field to factory to foodservice.

- Heavy duty
- Oil and grease resistant
- Great for hot or cold foods
- FDA approved for food use
- BPI certified compostable
- Suitable for home composting

Bridge-Gate plates, bowls and trays are also available.
